

A School Home for Lakes & Bridges

The students and teachers are in class, hard at work.
The curriculum is in place
and making a difference.
All we need now is a building
to call home.

LABCS was founded in 2017 with a simple mission: to teach all children to read.

The school offers the environment and curriculum proven to most effectively teach children with dyslexia to read, write and succeed.

Lakes & Bridges is the only public, tuition-free school in the entire Southeast created to teach children with dyslexia.

The forever home of Lakes & Bridges will be at 1600 E. Main Street in Easley, S.C. We are beginning a $1 million renovation required to turn the 30,000-sq.-ft. facility into an innovative, state-of-the-art school that will teach children in a way they most need and cannot find elsewhere (except in private schools that charge tuition).

State funds cover the basics. But this is not a basic school.

As a part of the S.C. Public Charter School District, Lakes & Bridges receives per-pupil funding from the state (not from local taxes), as well as federal grant funds. However, state and federal funds cannot be used for building construction or renovation.

Invest in our school. Change lives.

This is an opportunity for you to be part of a movement that will change the course of thousands of children's lives in the Upstate. Think about the impact your donation will have in helping a child read, when nothing else has unlocked their mind.

Our new building will serve as a bridge, offering the support, guidance and instruction these creative and intelligent children need to realize their potential and go into the world ready to succeed.

"I've always been the invisible kid at school, but that was before Lakes & Bridges. Here, they see me."

- Lance, 5th grade
